Palette, Travel:*

Fill your palette with paint (larger than a canary defecation) and allow it to dry completely before departure (about 1-2 weeks). Place in a plastic bag before packing into a suitcase. I use the Quiller Travel Palette* and we sell these palettes empty or filled with paint for convenience. I only carry a few tubes of color that I use a lot, like Antwerp Blue, Winsor Yellow, Quinacridone Burnt Orange, Permanent Magenta and Cobalt Blue.

Paper:*

I have chosen Arches 140# Cold Press Paper* in a quarter sheet (11"x15") size for my paintings. I bring enough paper to allow a sheet for each day of painting and then I also cut some paper into a long half-sheet (11" x 30") and fold it to quarter sheet size paper. If I want to, I can unfold this paper and paint a long panoramic image. To carry the paper, I made a portfolio. We can sell you one for $8 + Shipping & Handling. Do-It-Yourselfers can easily make one or have your local frame shop make a portfolio from foam core and tape.

Recommended Colors:*

Permanent Magenta
Ultramarine Blue
Cobalt Blue
Antwerp Blue
Manganese Blue
Phthalo Green-Blue Shade
Winsor Yellow
Quinacridone Gold
Raw Sienna
Scarlet Lake
Quinacridone Burnt Orange
Quinacridone Coral
Alizarin Crimson
Permanent Rose or Quinacridone Rose

Brushes:*

 (I carry my brushes in a canvas wrap)

1 1/2" Flat Wash Brush
#14 Round
#8 Round
#3 Script
1/2" Flat
Small Cheap Oriental Round Brush
Or, get our Brush Set with all the above brushes for $38

Miscellaneous:

Screw top drinking bottle (used to drink and to paint)
Salt in a film canister
Small spray bottle (Fine Mister)*
HB Pencil* and Eraser* (I will furnish an eraser)
Kleenex or toweling
Staedtler Pen, Black* (I will furnish this pen)
4 bulldog clips
Small umbrella
Lightweight bag or backpack

I now carry a lightweight chair for sitting while painting. This is an essential piece of equipment for on location. GCI Outdoor has a great chair that folds up to a small size that is very sturdy, only weighs 26 ounces, and is priced very reasonably. It is called the GCI Outdoor Pack Seat.
